IRONTON, MO., THURSDAY, AUGUST 30, 1894.

Ed. Register-It seems to me that the Rev. T. F. C. James is unduly exercised about Senator Vest's Scape-Goat quotation, and his interpretation of the Senator's remarks does that gentleman an unjustice.

The Senator's remarks had greater regard to the manner in which the Jews looked at the ceremony of sending a goat into the wilderness burdened with the sins of the people, than with the lesson that ceremony was intended to convey. The great body of the Jewish nation regarded the goat as bearing away their sins. With this class the ceremony was a superstition, just as the Roman ceremony of pouring a libation was a superstition. The educated Jew understood that the ceremony was a type of things to come -of Him who should take upon His shoulders the sins of His nation and leave it pure and undefiled. Even with this class there was no thought that the ceremony had a broader signification; and, after all, from the standpoint of the Christian, was only a national superstition of the Jews.

To the educated Roman the pouring of a libation was a reverent recognition of the bountiful giver of all good gifts; to the ignorant Roman it was simply a ceremony, which, if not performed, would bring him bad luck.

How many of the members of the church of which the reverend gentleman is a priest go through its ceremonies with the hope of bettering their temporal fortunes, will never be known; vet those who do so may be fairly charged with superstition, and the performance of superstitious acts-if it be allowable to use the term superstition in the sense that the Senator and the Dr. use it.

It is a quien sabe? business to indulge in criticisms involving matters of belief. To the devout Catholic the ceremonies of the Protestant churches are superstitious observances. The devout Protestant regards the ceremonies of the Catholic church in the same light, when, as a matter of fact, both churches embody members to whom the ceremonies they practice have no meaning, and are therefore to them mere superstitions.

If the word la-az-za-zel is so abto a practical man that there is no occasion for its use. It is a littla singular that in a volume intended for the instruction and enlightenment of the human race, that we have a piece of ritual introduced for the purpose of object-teaching that no one can hope to understand. If a man of the conceded parts of Senator Vest could not inderstand it in 999 years, the rest of us who are not so gifted must despair.

In conclusion, I will state that I believe superstition does not inhere in any ritual, be it Christian or Pagan. It inheres in the mind of man, and that Senator Vest was right when he denominated the ceremony of the scape goat as a Jewish superstition, because to the great mass of the Jewish nation it was nothing more.

THE SENATORIAL CONVENTION. Goodykoontz Wins On the 525th Ballot.

From the Steelville Democrat.

Delegates to the Senatorial Convention began to arrive last Thursday: Dr. Newberry with the Madison and Reynolds county delegations. Hon. J. E. Organ was the first candidate on the ground, he having put in his appearance Thursday morning. Dr. Goodycoontz arrived early Friday morning with Washington and Iron county delegations.

A little after 10 o'clock Hon. E. A. Seay, rapped the convention to order and announced that it had met to nominate a candidate for Senator from the 24th Senatorial District.

Caledonia, Mo. MRS. LYNN LINTON thinks that the easantry of Ireland and France, where she has observed them, are suffering greatly from the decline of the squirearchy or landlordism. In Ireland and in the French rural districts the people, no longer living under the "influence of the better educated and more enlightened gentry," lose both in manners and morals, and are also injured in their pockets. Whole towns and villages in Ireland have been made poorer than ever by the lack of landlords, who, "impoverished by successive enactments," have been forced to shut up their houses and leave the country. The work that was given by the big houses is over. The smithy's fire is quenched; the carriers' horses are idle; the village shops are meagre and few; nothing is doing, and "social life is stagnant. The women have scarcely anything to do. There is no more washing, and they are rapidly losing their skill in sewing.
